

Rain in the Tillamook

Name: _____

Go to "Early Coast Range Forest"

The Early Coast Range Forest had old, large Douglas-firs, Western hemlock, Cedar, and Spruce. Due to _____ in the environment, the trees were able to grow to immense sizes and live incredibly long lives.

How big did the Cedar trees get? _____ How tall were the Douglas-fir trees? _____

A temperate rain forest is any forest in the mid-latitudes that receives more than 50-60 inches of rainfall per year. A temperate rain forest will have a mild climate, heavy fog, and very generous rainfall.

What is the annual rainfall for the Tillamook Forest Center? _____

How much rain falls in Bend in one year? _____

Which area (Bend or Tillamook Forest Center) would be considered a Temperate Rain Forest? _____

Explore different areas of the exhibit hall.

Find 3 animals somewhere in the exhibit hall and write down ways those animals depend upon water...

Animal

How it uses water? (home, to find food, to drink, etc.)

Salmon _____

Uses water to breathe, as a habitat where it finds food, brings ocean nutrients back to freshwater streams and rivers

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____
